Address by the Principal

Vote of Thanks 2013

by Wong Suet Yee

Good morning, principal, parents, teachers and fellow schoolmates.

It is my great honour to give the graduation speech on behalf of F.6 students. It is our happiest moment ever so you don't have to worry about me delivering a humdrum 10-page-long speech.

My fellow schoolmates, we only arrived here 6 years ago, and it is already time to leave. Time flies, doesn't it? It seems like only yesterday that we were skinny little form ones. Now we are the seniors who are standing here ready to graduate and move forward in the world. Yet, as we reach the end of this chapter in our lives, we can't help looking back.

Allow me, if you will, to take you on a short walk down memory lane. In Home Economics, we yelled "success" for our dishes...(pause for effect)...before realising they were undercooked! After PE, all the girls complained that the classrooms were filled with the nasty smell of sweat. In Chinese, we laughed at one of our classmate's handwriting and made her feel very embarrassed. And before the exams, we had so many extra lessons that we often left the school before many of the teachers did! Now we are finally graduating.

We worked hard to get to this point, but we didn't do it by ourselves. We owe a huge debt of gratitude to the following people.

To our parents, thank you for supporting us and standing by our side at all times. You were always the earliest one to wake up not only because you had to prepare breakfast for us, but also because you had to wake us up again, and again and again! You were also the last to bed, not only because the endless household chores, but also because you waited up for us who sometimes hung out with friends and arrived home very late! Please forgive us for our immaturity. Today, we are proud to say that we have matured and are ready to be grown-ups too.

To our teachers, thank you for so unselfishly sharing your time, talent and knowledge with us. Yes, we know it's your job to do it, but what you did for us went far beyond the call of duty. You spent your lunchtime having oral practice with us. You spent your own money buying equipment for our laboratory experiments. You even encouraged us and answered our countless questions via What's app and were thus forced to disclose your mobile phone number to our classmates.

Let's take a moment now to put your hands together for our dedicated parents and teachers.

Don't be sad, my dear friends. Indeed, it is the end of our secondary school life, but don't forget it is also a new start for the rest of our life. Some of us here today, especially our parents, are wondering how our lives are going to turn out. Some ask what we will become in the future; a doctor, teacher, pop star, the Chief Executive... who knows? The sky's the limit! John Lennon said "Life is what happens when we are busy making plans." We can't predict our future but it is up to us to create it. Take what you have learnt in the past few years and put it to good use. Don't waste it. I am sure all of us can create our own bright future.

Over the coming years we may forget some science facts and calculus formulas we learnt in this school. What we cannot forget are the fond memories we had with our teachers and friends here. Lastly, I hope the school will continue to enjoy the reputation it deserves and provide an excellent learning environment for students. I wish you all success in whatever you decide to do with your lives. Thank you.
