30th June 2017 – Graduation day

Welcoming speech for the graduation day 2017

Dear Dr. Lee, parents, teachers and students of BSTC, ladies and gentlemen,

Good afternoon! First let me extend my warmest welcome to our guest of honor for the graduation ceremony this afternoon, Dr. Lee Lai Ping. Dr. Lee is an Associate Consultant in the Department of Paediatrics and Adolescent Medicine of Princess Margaret Hospital. She graduated from the Faculty of Medicine of University of Hong Kong. She has attained her professional qualifications as Member of the UK Royal College of Physician (Paediatrics), Fellow of Hong Kong College of Paediatricians and Fellow of the Hong Kong Academy of Medicine. She also has a Master's Degree in Public Health from the CUHK. She specializes in taking care of adolescent patients with eating disorders, emotional and psychosomatic disorders. Apart from clinical duties in hospital, she actively engages in health promotion activities including health talks and projects in schools and communities. With a special interest in the prevention of child abuse and child protection, Dr. Lee is currently a member of the Child Fatality Review Committee of the Social Welfare Department and Medical Co-ordinator of Child Abuse.

This afternoon we are most honored to have Dr. Lee Lai Ping as our guest of honor. Dr. Lee completed her secondary education at BSTC and during her studies here, she was appointed head prefect and also awarded the senior medal (Purple medal) of the Community Youth Club owing to her outstanding and committed community service and leadership. Dr. Lee cares about the development of her alma mater and is more than happy to offer her help to BSTC. For example, she shared her learning and work experience with our alumni at our school's 40th anniversary ceremony back in Dec 2013. I would like to invite you to join me in giving a big round of applause to thank Dr. Lee for her sparing her valuable time to officiate at our graduation ceremony this afternoon. And,

dear graduates, please also give another big round of applause to our dedicated teachers and supporting staff, who have contributed much of their personal time to taking care of you during the past six years. Without these dedicated teachers and staff, I am sure you would have come across much more difficulties during your secondary school life.

This afternoon, we are together again to celebrate the graduation day for our form 6 graduates. I can see many familiar faces, eagerly looking around for their classmates and teachers. Time flies and now, form six graduates, you are moving on to the next stage of life where you are bound to face different challenges and difficulties. I hope you found the 334 education system and your learning experience at Sin Tak fruitful and enjoyable. Do remember that we have already arranged a briefing session on “D-day”, on July 8th, that is, next Saturday - the day your HKDSE results will be released. Please invite your parents to come with you next Saturday, as we will disseminate the most up-to-date information about university admission that morning. The venue will be here, the school hall.

I am sure you are all waiting eagerly for Dr. Lee's inspiring speech. Finally, let's give a big hand once again to our guest of honor, Dr. Lee Lai Ping. Thank you!

Before I end my welcoming speech I would like to share with you in Cantonese my experience of being sick for the past few months.

Mr. Jack Ho Moon Tim

Principal, Buddhist Sin Tak College

VOTE OF THANKS 2017

Good afternoon, Dr Lee, Mr. Ho, parents, teachers and my fellow schoolmates, Today I'm proud to represent our 143 graduates this year, standing here and speaking to you .This is a day more than a graduation day, but a day to look back and ahead, and most importantly, a day to say goodbye properly , as we all know life is anything but predictable.

We have been so blessed. Seldom did we have much to worry about – except school work. Let us thank all the people who have made an effort to keep us safe and sound throughout the past six years. Thank you very much.

Our classrooms have witnessed people coming and going over the years. But what stays unchanged? Our teachers who remain devoted and unrelenting, perfecting their teaching, defying workload and stress. To our teachers, a big thank-you for your patience, dedication and encouragement, which are especially precious at this defining stage of our lives. Thank you for seeing us through the haunting months before the DSE. Our gratitude for the counsel you've given is beyond description.

Our dear parents, we have to thank you for your unwavering support and unlimited capacity for tolerance. You're our parents, our friends, our fans and ... enemies, well at times. Yet you're always with us through thick and thin. We older teenagers can be difficult, can't we? We teenage babies must have given vent to our frustration on you; yet, you've never given up on us. For our foolishness we beg your forgiveness; to your love we want to express our heartfelt gratitude.

And finally, my fellow graduates, thank you for being here today. This, is our day. The DSE journey is like a marathon, an idea only those who have gone through it know. Thank you for trying your best and surviving the game with determination and strength, leaving an indelible mark in our lives. Though this is our graduation ceremony, this is in fact an opening ceremony for another chapter in our life, where our endless search for independence takes on a new meaning. . Finishing form 6, are you ready to go the extra mile, for better or worse? A friend of mine once wrote me this: our greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall. I don't have the slightest idea about which of us will be successful; however, I'm very sure life gets us down, more often than we would like it to. My friends, may your scars and mistakes be your armour for battles in life.

Life has brought us together and now in no time we will live separate lives. We consider parting to be sorrow just because we had such a good time together. Yet no matter what, our paths crossed and we had our moments. The memories are here stay.

Farewell my love. Farewell BSTC.
