Address by the Principal

29th June 2018 – Graduation day

Welcoming speech for the graduation day 2018

Dear Dr. Yiu, parents, teachers and students of BSTC, ladies and gentlemen,

Good afternoon! First let me extend my warmest welcome to our guest of honor for the graduation ceremony this afternoon, Dr. Yiu Hing Leung. Dr. Yiu is currently the Head of Advanced Manufacturing of the Hong Kong Science and Technology Parks Corporation (HKSTP).

Before that, Dr. Yiu managed the Electronics, Materials, Precision Engineering Clusters, and Robotics Platform of over 300 companies in the Park and in the ecosystem. Dr. Yiu has a wealth of management and technical experience in the field of semiconductors and integrated circuit, electronics, information technology, telecommunications, computing, new product development, sales/marketing, and business development.

Prior to HKSTP, Dr. Yiu has startup and multinational corporation experiences. In Motorola Semiconductor Product Sector, he was the General Manager the Network and Computing Systems Group (NCSG) Asia and served various departments in Motorola including leading the R&D for the famous DragonBall microprocessor for personal digital assistant / handheld computers. He is a holder of eight patents.

Dr. Yiu graduated from The Hong Kong Polytechnic University with Bachelor and Master of Electronic Engineering as well as the Doctor of Business Administration degree. He has Master degrees in Executive MBA, Finance and Juris Doctor from The Chinese University of Hong Kong. He is currently a fellow member of the Hong Kong Institution of Engine.

This afternoon we are most honored to have Dr. Yiu as our guest of honor. Dr. Yiu graduated from BSTC and during his studies in our school; he has joined many activities and demonstrated his leadership and talents in various aspects.

I would like to invite you to join me in giving a big round of applause to thank Dr. Yiu for sparing his valuable time to officiate the graduation ceremony this afternoon. Besides, please also give another big round of applause to our dedicated teachers and supporting staff, who have contributed much of their personal time to take care of you during the past six years. Without these dedicated teachers and staff, I am sure you will come across much more difficulties during your secondary school life.

This afternoon, we are together again to celebrate the graduation day for our form 6 graduates. I can see many familiar faces, eagerly looking around for their classmates and teachers. Time flies and now, form six graduates, you are moving on to the next stage of life where you are bound to face different challenges and difficulties. I hope you found the 334 education system and your learning experience at Sin Tak fruitful and enjoyable. Do remember that we have already arranged a briefing session tomorrow morning for the details for your HKDSE results release on July 11th. Tomorrow is June 30th. Please invite your parents to come with you tomorrow, as we will disseminate the most up-to-date information about university admission that morning, the venue will be here, the school hall.

I am sure you are all waiting eagerly for Dr. Yiu's inspiring speech in a while. Finally, let's give a big hand once again to our guest of honor, Dr. Yiu Hing Leung.
Thank you!

VOTE OF THANKS 2018

Good afternoon Dr. Yiu, Mr. Ho, parents, teachers and my fellow graduates,

It is such an honour to be able to stand here representing all of us today. Graduation is a milestone in our lives. This is the day which we will forever hold dear to our hearts— it is a day where a new page is turned, a day of transition, and a day where we say our blessings and farewell to each other as we part ways.

We have been incredibly fortunate that we grew up in such a loving environment where everyone cared for us and supported us. They kept everything organised and in order, nourished us with the fruits of their labour and kept us carefree. Hereby let us express our deepest gratitude to all the people who made today possible, who made us possible.

To our devoted teachers, we thank you for your dedication to professionalism, your patience and kindness, and your love and care. You were our beacons in times when we were lost; our crutches, for you never failed to support us when we were weak; you were our swords; for you armed us with knowledge, skills and courage, and you were our shield, for you protected us from harm. You refused to give up on any of us, despite the burden of your work. Your blood, sweat and toil is what made us possible today. We may not be able to take away all the knowledge that you have taught us in school, but your dedication and attitude will forever remain with us, and accompany us through the years to come.

To our parents, we thank you for your unconditional love and understanding. As we step into our adolescence, we gradually spend less time with you, and worst still, you were the ones who had to deal with our mood swings, our tantrums and negativity. In spite of this, you were the ones who never failed to wait for us at home, who picked us up when we were down, who constantly worried about us, because your love for us is unconditional. Thank you for always being there to back us up.

And finally, to my dear graduates, thank you for walking together in the past six years. Companionship is the greatest gift we have given each other. This is our graduation ceremony, but this is also the opening ceremony of a new chapter in our lives, as we embark on a journey into the unknown life has for us. I would like to take this opportunity to wish you courage, for when life gets you onto your knees, remember that glory is achieved by rising from the ashes of past failures.

Parting may be seen as a sorrow, for life has brought us together in such a brief time. Yet no matter where we will be in the future, our hearts will always be tied back to the place where memories—of laughter, of love, of battles fought and of endless youth— are made, the place where it all started: Buddhist Sin Tak College.

Farewell, and thank you.
