Address by the Principal

Mr. Ho Moon Tim

The 43rd Graduation Ceremony

Dear Professor Wong, parents, teachers and students of BSTC, ladies and gentlemen,

Good evening. First let me extend my warmest welcome to our guest of honour for the graduation ceremony tonight, Professor Wong Wing Shing. Professor WONG Wing Shing assumed office as the Master of S.H. Ho College, the Chinese University of Hong Kong (“CUHK”), with effect from 1 August 2018. He is an ex officio member of the Committee of Overseers, the Chairman of the Assembly of Fellows and the Cabinet of the College. Professor Wong graduated from Yale University with a combined MS and BA degree and obtained MS and PhD degrees from Harvard University. He has been a Fellow of the Hong Kong Institution of Engineers (FHKIE) since 1996, a Fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) since 2002, and a Fellow of the Hong Kong Academy of Engineering Sciences (HKAES) since 2013. He joined CUHK in 1992 after working at AT&T Bell Laboratories for ten years, and was awarded Emeritus Fellowship in August 2017. He is currently Research Professor and Choh-Ming Li Research Professor of Information Engineering. He served as the Chairman of the Information Engineering Department from 1995 to 2003. From 2005 to 2014, he served as the Dean of Graduate School of CUHK, managing around 250 postgraduate programmes and an enrollment of over 12,000 postgraduate students. Professor Wong is a founding member of S.H. Ho College, who played a key role in the preparatory work before its foundation. He was a member of the Planning Committee from 2006 to 2009 and an Initial Fellow in 2009.

Before assuming the mastership, Prof. Wong actively served in the College as a member in both the Assembly of Fellows and the Cabinet, and the chairman of the Student Exchange Committee.

In addition, Professor Wong has been the chairman and member of several professional bodies and engaged in the editorial work of international journals. He has served as a Principal Investigator for over twenty competitive research grants.

This evening, we are together again to celebrate the graduation day for our form 6 graduates. It is also the first time that we have arranged the graduation ceremony in the evening to facilitate its smooth running in conjunction with the DSE results release talk that was conducted earlier this afternoon. Tonight I can see many familiar faces, eagerly looking around for their classmates and teachers. Time flies and now, form six graduates, you are moving on to the next stage of life where you are bound to face different challenges and difficulties. I hope you found the 334 education system and your learning experience at Sin Tak fruitful and enjoyable.

I am sure all of you have been waiting eagerly for Professor Wong's inspiring speech. Let's give a big hand once again to our guest of honor, Professor Wong Wing Shing. Thank you.

Graduation Speech

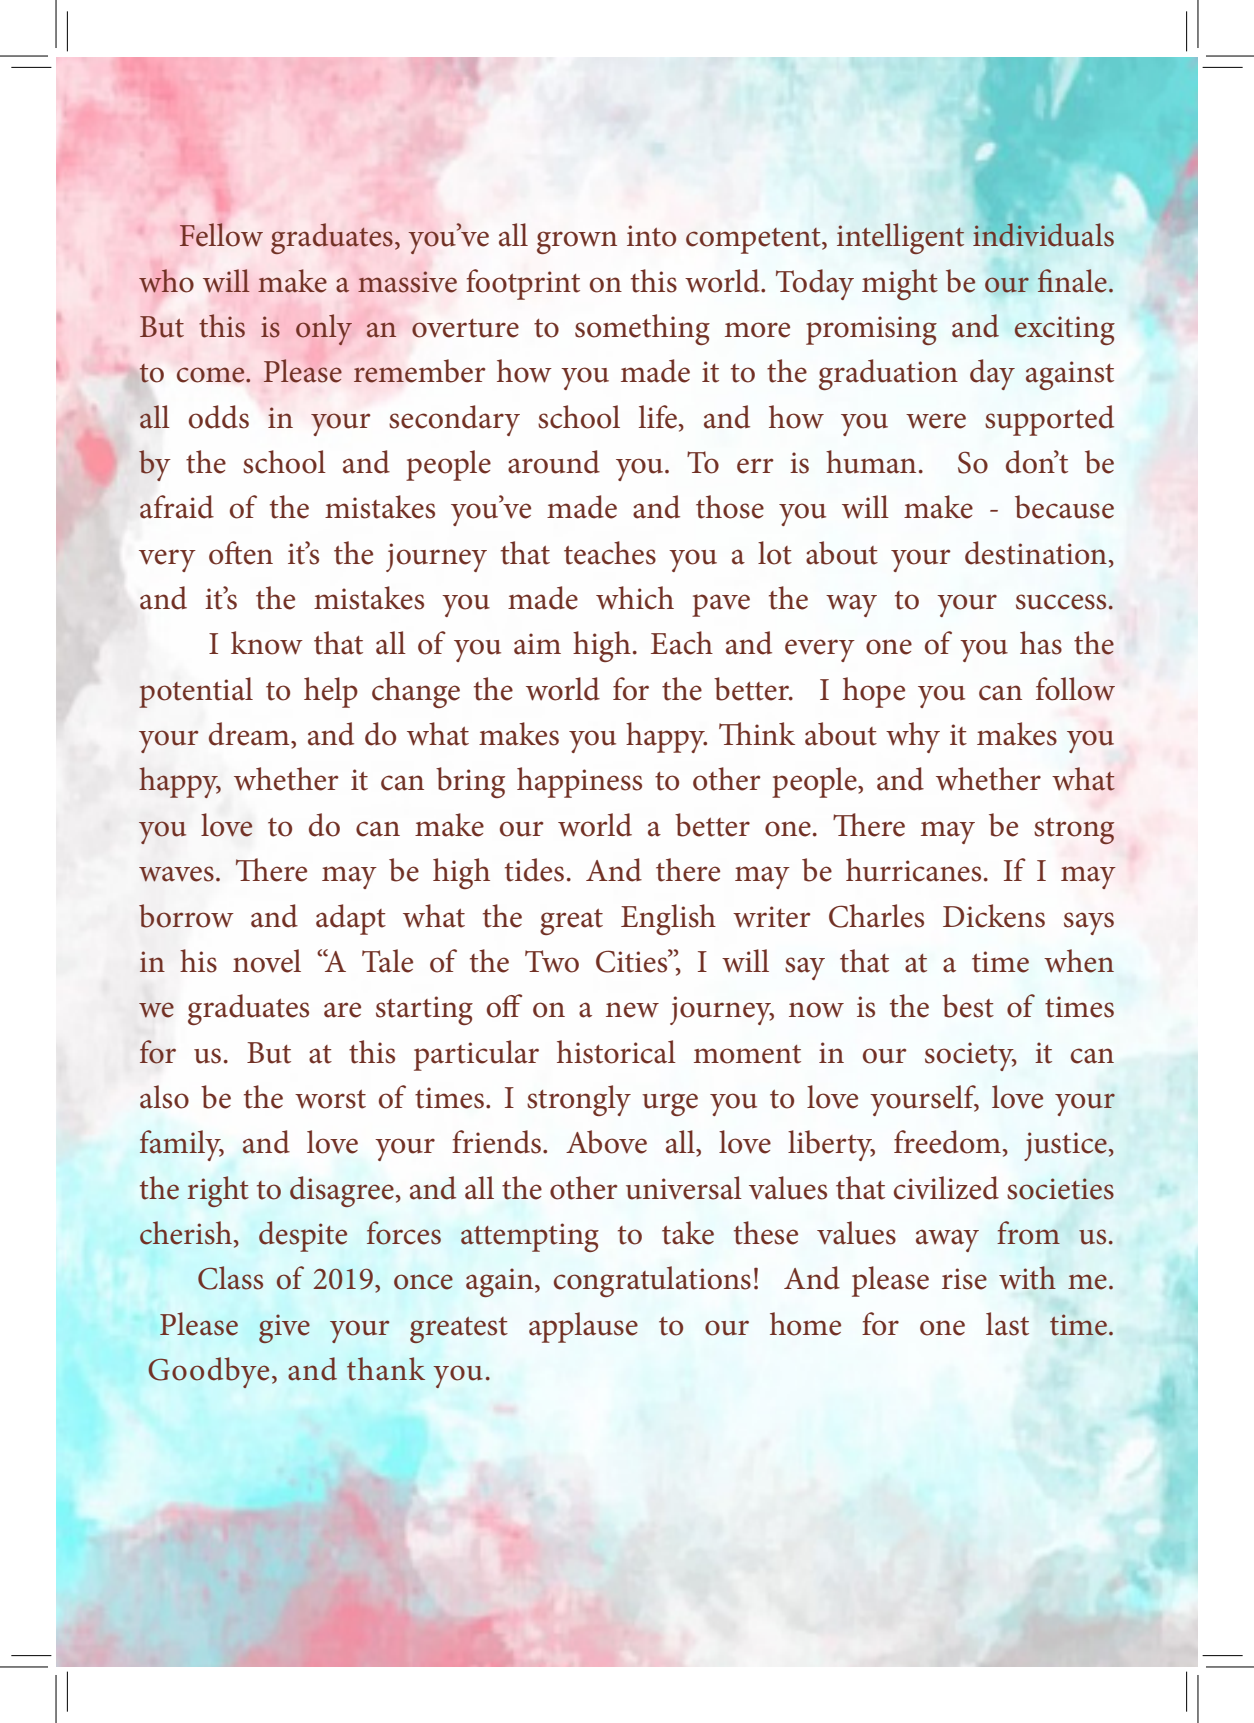

6A Yam Nga Yu

Good evening. Professor Wong, Mr. Ho, parents, teachers and fellow schoolmates. I am immensely honored to be delivering this graduation speech on behalf of Class of 2019 of Buddhist Sin Tak College.

First, I would like to thank the parents of all our graduates for handing down love like a family heirloom. Working overnight and staying late in the school were the routines for many of us. Our work was endless and relentless. And yet we were still given a moment of true peace when we got home and found a bowl of hot soup waiting for us. Your love has really made all the difference to our lives. Let's give a big round of applause to our parents for the love and time they have devoted to us.

I'd also like to thank all the teachers for being our allies and friends. You stand by us when we face challenges that may drown us, and you illuminate the right path for us. You pass knowledge to us, not just for our public exams and intellectual development, but also for our personal improvement. We are now ready to be responsible, independent and compassionate citizens because of you. Our teachers, to all of you, we'd like to express our deepest gratitude for supporting us throughout this journey and making Buddhist Sin Tak College our home. Let's give a round of applause to our dedicated teachers!

Class of 2019, think about how far we have come, individually and as a class. Do you still remember the classical music we listened to every day before the morning assembly? Do you remember how calm and relaxed we were when we practiced meditation in the Buddhist studies classes? Girls, do you remember how you felt when you first put on this well-known canary yellow dress? Whether or not you find your academic results satisfactory, we, as a class, have made great strides over the past six years. Today is a day when all the efforts we have made since the first day we arrived at the school have come to a fruitful conclusion. Congratulations!

Fellow graduates, you've all grown into competent, intelligent individuals who will make a massive footprint on this world. Today might be our finale. But this is only an overture to something more promising and exciting to come. Please remember how you made it to the graduation day against all odds in your secondary school life, and how you were supported by the school and people around you. To err is human. So don't be afraid of the mistakes you've made and those you will make - because very often it's the journey that teaches you a lot about your destination, and it's the mistakes you made which pave the way to your success.

I know that all of you aim high. Each and every one of you has the potential to help change the world for the better. I hope you can follow your dream, and do what makes you happy. Think about why it makes you happy, whether it can bring happiness to other people, and whether what you love to do can make our world a better one. There may be strong waves. There may be high tides. And there may be hurricanes. If I may borrow and adapt what the great English writer Charles Dickens says in his novel "A Tale of the Two Cities", I will say that at a time when we graduates are starting off on a new journey, now is the best of times for us. But at this particular historical moment in our society, it can also be the worst of times. I strongly urge you to love yourself, love your family, and love your friends. Above all, love liberty, freedom, justice, the right to disagree, and all the other universal values that civilized societies cherish, despite forces attempting to take these values away from us.

Class of 2019, once again, congratulations! And please rise with me.

Please give your greatest applause to our home for one last time. Goodbye, and thank you.
